We need to raise $$$
NOW! Donations are down.
What can we do?

Bake sale? Ask members for more money? Something else?

Bake Sale?
Dinners?

Return on investment analysis. How much in ingredients, supplies, and labor (including free labor free labor)?

Food is expensive. Preparation takes time. How many cakes/dinners can we sell? How often can we do it? How much $$$ can we make?

Or, Plan B

Ask members and friends for donations?

Are you placing an unfair burden on those who love you and want to please? Even if they find a way to contribute, will this resource dry up and create resentment?

 Inefficient. Too few $$$

Should we place an additional economic burden on our members and friends during these troubling economic times? Instead, should we be asking how we can help our own?

Or, Plan C

SOMETHING ELSE.
FUNDRAISING
MADE EASY!

 Inefficient. A burden to members

FUNDRAISING MADE EASY!
COFFEE FUNDRAISER— Your organization makes money when members buy coffees and teas from itself. Your supporters can donate without feeling any pain. Organic coffees and teas protect the planet while you earn huge $$$.
